

Trail distances are all figured one direction in kilometers.

- Easiest
- More Difficult
- Most Difficult
- Back Country (not groomed)
- Table
- Overnight Cabin

-  1 South Fork Trail (2 1/2k) South Fork Trail, upon leaving the Wood River Trail, provides a relatively flat and gentle trail throughout its course. Fantastic scenery and small loops through aspen and pine trees await the novice and advanced skier. A great trail for the whole family to enjoy. Back country skiing can be enjoyed at the upper end of this trail. Note The upper loop is groomed only when the river is frozen over. Winter camping enthusiasts will find the overnite cabin (reservation basis only) located at the end of this trail.
-  2 Wood River Trail (3/4k from warming hut to main intersection) A gentle trail that provides access to a majority of the ski trails by way of the triple intersection. Watch out crossing the South Fork Creek.
-  3 Lodge Pole Trail (1/2k) Cross the Wood River and turn right This trail takes you through the pine forests providing an alternative route to South Fork Secondary trails branch off to take you back to the Wood River Trail.
-  4 Big Rock Trail (1/2k) Turn right at the triple intersection. Big Rock Trail provides a combination of open meadow, pine forest and aspen trees. Enjoy its flat terrain and small hills. Take time to stop and rest at the picnic table by the Big Rock
-  5 Old Bear Trail (1/2k) Branch off of the Big Rock Trail. Strap your skis on tight because this one is for the expert. Groomed only when conditions allow.

Welcome to

A quiet, scenic and distinct ski touring park.

-  6 Yellow Meadow Loop (2k around outer loop) This loop branches two ways off the triple intersection and is great on those sunny warm days. Enjoy skiing through a diversity of trees and open spaces. Several secondary and major trails can be reached from this loop.
-  7 Brown Creek Trail (2 k) A variety of trail conditions are to be found on this trail. The trip going in is a gradual uphill climb with an easy downhill slide coming out. Watch out for that first hill! Back country skiing can be enjoyed at the upper end of this trail also.
-  8 Lower Aspen Trail (2k to fence on top) A hilly trail with scattered pine trees and wide open spaces. A gradual climb to the top of Aspen Ridge can be expected. When reaching the top, rest at the picnic table and enjoy the view, especially looking into the upper reaches of the Wood River!
-  9 Upper Aspen Trail (1k) An alternate trail for those wishing to ski next to the mountain. For those not wanting to ski up Wapiti Ridge, look for the direction sign back to the Lower Aspen Trail.
-  10 Wapiti Ridge Trail (1 k) A true test of your skiing ability. We suggest skiing up the trail before attempting a quick downhill descent. The trail is marked but not groomed.
-  11 Aspen Creek Loop (Back Country Trails) A major loop through beautiful aspen groves. All trails on this loop are marked, but not groomed. A perfect experience for those advanced skiers seeking solitude.